

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT & REVITALIZATION

2015 and 2016 Floods

"We work to rebuild communities, to put Texans back in their homes, and to help businesses recover after the trauma of disaster."

— George P. Bush, Commissioner

We Rebuild Texas Communities

The Texas General Land Office Community Development and Revitalization program (GLO-CDR) provides long-term recovery assistance to the people of Texas as they rebuild after disasters. As the lead State agency for administering more than $3.9 billion in Community Development Block Grant for Disaster Recovery (CDBG-DR) funds allocated by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

These funds have been allocated for recovery following Hurricanes Rita, Dolly, and Ike, the 2011 wildfires, and the 2015 and 2016 floods.

2015 AND 2016 FLOODS OVERVIEW

The 160 Texas counties impacted by the 2015 and 2016 floods represent 76 percent of the Texas population or 20.9 million people - a total population greater than that of 48 states. As a result of these floods, HUD has allocated $434.3 million in CDBG-DR funds to the state of Texas. Of that, the GLO-CDR will administer $313.5 million across 129 counties. GLO-CDR estimates a combined loss of over $2 billion in unmet long-term recovery needs when considering the impact of the multiple disasters suffered by Texas.

Data below does not include the last two allocations announced by HUD.*
